*Reverend Billy Graham: "Courage is contagious. When a brave man takes a stand, the spines of others are often stiffened."
This Memorial Day, take time to remember the brave men and women that take a stand for our freedoms, and the inspiration they provide to us all.*

SECURITY – EXPERIAN MANDATE

Experian's concern over the growing number of attempts to obtain and misuse logon credentials by identity thieves in order to access the Experian database, has prompted them to implement new User Authentication procedures.

Experian is implementing a policy to require more robust authentication of users through Multi-Factor Authentication; beyond just a password. Compliance will be mandatory by July 15, 2011; non-compliance will result in inability to access the Experian data base.

In preparation of the July 15, 2011 date we have two system changes that will meet the Experian Multi-factor Authentication Compliance requirement;

First "IP Restrictions":

Each User will be required to register their IP address and our system will accommodate the constantly-changing environment of IP addresses by using the User's email address as recorded in the One Source Client set-up. For security purposes, the recorded email will need to be a corporate or company email; it cannot be a Hotmail, Gmail or Yahoo account.

This simple but all-encompassing security solution will greatly reduce threats from key-logger viruses and meets Multi-factor authentication compliance requirement.

Second "Security features- unbeatable protection":

- Hours of Operation – can be established that will restrict unauthorized "after hours" access . You will be able to enable "after hours" access.
- Max Report Ordering Limits – will prevent unauthorized ordering of high volumes of reports. There will be an "allow additional limits" access as well.
- Email/Mobile Alerts – selected individuals can receive security alerts when "after hours" and "limits" access has been reached.

IMPLEMENTING THESE SECURITY MEASURES

One Source will be contacting your office to go over the implementing of these new security measures and the Multi-factor Authentication Compliance requirement.
